

UCA's International Summer School 2022

UCA's International Summer School 2022

University for the Creative Arts (UCA) is one of Europe's largest specialist creative arts universities, nurturing a unique and wide-ranging community of artists and creatives making our International Summer School a world class creative experience.

UCA prides itself on bringing together talented creatives from around the world to experience a journey of creative discovery.

On an International Summer School, you will have the chance to study with some of the UK's leading creative academics, practising artists and technicians. It is your opportunity to experience and benefit from our state-of-the-art facilities and high-quality teaching at our Farnham campus to develop your creative practice.

Our International Summer School has a full programme of practical workshop-based experiences, reflective learning as well as weekly cultural visits, social activities and independent exploration to inspire your creativity and to make the most of your time with us.

Each of our course programmes for 2022 will help you to develop your skills and creative process, your personal portfolio and to gain an understanding of the UK's creative industries and educational opportunities.
